Resorts World Sentosa collaborates with Dick Lee on new original production

LIGHTSEEKER premieres 24 November 2013

SINGAPORE, 7 NOVEMBER 2013 – For its third original resident show production, Resorts World® Sentosa has teamed up with internationally-acclaimed songwriter Dick Lee. LIGHTSEEKER, a multi-million dollar fantasy musical will premiere at Resorts World Sentosa (RWS) this November. This 90-minute musical features original songs composed by award-winning songwriter Dick Lee performed by an international ensemble cast, including stars from London's West End.

Andrea Teo, Executive Producer and Creative Director, LIGHTSEEKER as well as Vice President of Entertainment, RWS who was behind many of Singapore's best loved and multiple award winning sitcoms like Under One Roof, Phua Chu Kang and The Ra Ra Show, created the show concept and story of LIGHTSEEKER. She said, "LIGHTSEEKER is a musical that audiences at different life stages can relate to. On one hand, this musical is about the choice between fear versus freedom. On another, it is a metaphor for the corporate world with its power struggles. It is a fantasy fable with spectacular visuals, action sequences and theatrical effects that will appeal to the whole family".

"I set out to create something that combines the pace, scale and story-telling of movies with the immersiveness of live performances. It has a unique soundtrack with Dick's amazing melodies and lyrics performed by an international cast. We've hopefully made something really special, relevant and inspiring to modern audiences."

Dick Lee, Songwriter, LIGHTSEEKER said, "When RWS approached me with the concept for LIGHTSEEKER, I was sold. The fantasy storyline was something I had never worked on before, and the universal themes of free will and good versus evil inspired me to pen the songs".

"After meeting with Andrea and the producing team, I went home and wrote the first song right away. I hope that the songs will really resonate with audiences, not just in extending the story and bringing the characters to life, but also to evoke the same emotions in the audience", said Dick.

Dick Lee's trademark music is familiar to local and international audiences. He has written many popular stage musicals including Beauty World in 1988, Fried Rice Paradise in 1991, Forbidden City in 2003 and Hong Kong singer Jacky Cheung's groundbreaking broadway-style musical, Snow.Wolf.Lake in 1997. His last musical was P Ramlee in 2007-8, 5 years ago and in 2010, he refreshed Fried Rice Paradise. A celebrated musician, Dick was recognized with the Hong Kong Film Academy Award in 1994 and 1999, the Singapore Cultural Medallion in 2005. He was recently accorded the status of Steinway Artist. Dick also wrote the iconic National Day theme song ‘Home’, performed by Kit Chan in 1998 and popular Mandopop hit ‘Lovers’ Tears’ for Hong Kong singer Sandy Lam.

Internationally renowned director-writer, Michael La Fleur, who has created shows for Disney, Universal, numerous famed performance venues world-wide, collaborating with A-list performers such as Celine Dion and Sarah Brightman and many more, directs the musical. Emmy award-winning designer Patrick Larsen is behind the elaborate stage sets. The songs in the musical are composed by Dick Lee, while the original musical arrangement and orchestrations are by Jonathan Lim and Bang Wenfu.

LIGHTSEEKER tells the story of a fantasy world where a wondrous power known as The Light nourishes all life. The General, a terrifying soldier, seeks this precious energy that will make his ominous Emperor more powerful. The search leads him to Nova, a mysterious young girl, who seems to have the ability to create The Light. A battle for The Light ensues and Nova is captured. The General tries to force her to conjure up The Light but soon discovers that, not only is he unable to control her, but her presence threatens the only world he has ever known. Forced to face the unknown future, The General must make the ultimate choice – be secure in the darkness he knows, or take a leap of faith and embrace the promise of a new and better world within the light.

Andrea added, “Since opening three years ago, Resorts World Sentosa has constantly refreshed its offerings and introduced new attractions. With our wide and varied range of entertainment, we have helped to develop the local arts and entertainment industry over the years. LIGHTSEEKER, which is another example of the close collaboration between top local and international talents, is the latest offering that we believe will appeal to audiences young and old.”
